

Two Pandas in China by SK 1

"One day, in China, there lived a panda bear. Her name was Emily."

"She was hungry so she went to find some bamboo. She had to go a long way."

"On the way, she met her friend, Isabelle. They ate some bamboo together."

"When they went on, there was less bamboo."

"So they went farther and farther and farther."

"When they got there, there were only three bamboo branches left to eat."

"They saw a few people cutting down branches to make room to build more houses."

"There were more people living there now."

"People were making more houses and things like tooth brushes."

"One day, a wise man came to China. He said, 'You should not cut down more bamboo because there won't be any panda bears left.' "

"The man also said, 'You should grow more bamboo.' "

"So, the people planted some seeds to make more bamboo for the pandas to eat."

"Isabelle and Emily were happy."

The End.
